

THIS WEEK IN THE TEACHING CENTER

Monday, October 11 to Friday, October 15, 2010

Monday, October 11th

- 1:00-3:00 Application Preparation: Writing a Strong Application
— the second workshop in the series “Moving on Up: Workshops for Part-timers interested in Full-time Employment”
Contact: Ardencie Hall-Karambe at AHallKarambe@ccp.edu

Come get the lowdown on writing a strong application. We will review cover letters, resume arrangements and proper references

Tuesday, October 12th

- 9:30-11:00 Designing Meaningful Learning Activities
— the fourth workshop in the “Understanding by Design” series, a Faculty Learning Certificate series
Contact: Maddy Marcotte-Rolston at teachingcenter@ccp.edu

Until you’ve uncovered the core concepts and envisioned evidence of understanding, “a discussion of teaching strategies is premature.” (Luckily, we will have done both of those things by this point.) In this session, we’ll get to the fun stuff—designing exercises and activities! We will consider how to use templates, among other things, to more thoughtfully—more deliberately—apply what we already know about good design for learning.

- 2:00-3:30 Designing Meaningful Learning Activities
(see above for description)

- 3:30-4:30 Faculty Poetry Workshop
Contact Sharon Eiferman at seiferman@ccp.edu

All interested faculty are invited to attend this lively workshop of your talented colleagues who are gentle and gifted in the art of poetry criticism. Simply bring six copies of any poem you have written for discussion. (We will also meet on 11/9).

Wednesday, October 13th

- 3:30—4:30 African Writers Book Group (meets weekly)
Contact: Jere Brubaker at jbrubaker@ccp.edu

Monday, October 11 to Friday, October 15, 2010

Thursday, October 14th

2:00—3:30 Preparing to Teach Online

— the first workshop in the series “Introduction to Teaching On-line,” a Faculty Learning Certificate series

Contact: Fran Lukacik or Melissa St. Pierre @ teachingcenter@ccp.edu

Note: This workshop is at capacity. If you're interested in future workshops, please contact the Teaching Center.

This session will introduce you to the world of online teaching and learning. We will address common misconceptions and concerns held by both faculty and students. We will help you think about the strengths of teaching online, and the possible challenges. After the session, you will log on to WebStudy to experience the role of student in an online course.

3:30—5:00 Faculty Learning Community on Critical Thinking

Contact: Maddie Marcotte-Rolston at teachingcenter@ccp.edu
