

ABOUT ENGLISH 205 ONLINE

In English 205, Creative Writing Online, students learn about the elements of fiction, poetry, and drama, and writing your own creative works. Each week you will read literature by noted authors and chapters on the craft of writing, and then apply what you have learned to your own writing.

Though this class is titled "creative writing," the skills that you acquire will strengthen your overall writing. Precise, coherent prose with a strong underlying voice is an asset no matter what field you are going into. (You might be surprised to learn that much of what we learn also applies to various kinds of "business writing.") Hopefully, by the end of the course you will have more of a sense of your own writing "voice," will be using sharper concrete details, and will have more control of the unifying idea for each piece you write, whether fiction, poetry, or drama.
